QR CARD ▾

Hi there,

I've been using this kind of resumé for a while. Actually, it is addition to my personal website conceived as business card. I've had it in my native language Czech only, therefore I translated and edited for purpose of this course.

Computers, website and design is my field, so I decided to show it even by my resumé. We live in rush days and nobody has time to read long and textual CVs, so there it is. Graphical way to present myself and persuade people for hire me. Because they should know they want me. :)

According to lectures, I used hobbies for sharing something before we will get to the business. My hobbies are in bold "tag cloud" on the right.

McGuire's table says, that one of message variables is the informative statistics. I use these statistics plots on the bottom for showing my language and computer skills.

I intentionally use abbreviations and QR code to persuade receiver, that I'm technical enthusiast which is true... I mean, really. ;) I also follow all grammar and typography rules in czech version, but to be honest... I'm not so sure in English.

I hope you like it little bit. :) Thank you!

Have a nice day,
Jakub Rychecký, Czech Republic
